KING AND QUEEN OPEN FESTIVAL

LONDON, May 12.—The festival of the empire was opened at Crystal Palace today by King George and Queen Mary. The King and Queen, accompanied by Prince of Wales and Princess Mary, with the royal suite, made their first appearance since the coronation through the streets of London as a prelude to the coronation celebrations as they drove to Crystal Palace. The weather was warm and sunny and thousands lined the streets and cheered the royal party. Many American tourists were among the spectators.

The dark shadow cast by the grave condition of Queen Alexandra's health hangs over the coronation season which opened officially this week. The situation remains a being made to keep the matter a secret. No word has leaked out through the newspapers, but the fact that the Queen mother's life has been in danger for some time past is now an open secret at court. Rumors concerning the Queen's health have been circulating for some time past. It is not at all improbable that an official declaration of the rumors concerning Alexandra will be issued in the near future, as the public fear, but it will take some time more than an official declaration to explain the rumors now circulating at court for the insurance of this character.

Stricken After King's Death. The illness which has stricken Alexandra is the result of the strain of the coronation. It is only six weeks since the coronation ceremony. It is also noted as the result of the strain of the coronation. It is only six weeks since the coronation ceremony. It is also noted as the result of the strain of the coronation.

Some time ago a new type was presented, but now that the King's death has occurred, it is only six weeks since the coronation ceremony. It is also noted as the result of the strain of the coronation.

Has Heart Attacks. There has been a recurrence of the fainting fits and heart attacks which invariably affect the Queen Mother's mental equilibrium. The private secretary at Windsor in memory of King Edward, proved altogether too much for her. She fainted pitifully through the service and her grief was so pronounced that it affected several members of the staff.

Several days after this service the Queen Mother was seen in the garden. She was seen in the garden. She was seen in the garden. She was seen in the garden. She was seen in the garden.

URGES RECOGNITION OF MOTHERS' DAY. In a proclamation issued last night, Governor Fox says that public recognition has accorded the second Sunday in May, which is becoming known throughout the country as Mothers' Day. He believes the time is not far distant when Mothers' Day will become more and more honored and it is second only to Christmas in the hearts of all. A white carnation is suggested as the symbol to be worn on this day.

Joseph Kummelmann, eleven years old, was the chief witness for the mother, Mrs. Kummelmann, in her divorce suit against her husband, Solomon, heard in the Suffolk Court by Judge Hittchcock today. The family now live on Lovell street, West End. The Kummelmanns were married in London. The wife alleges that on Independence Day five years ago, and after she had testified that her husband left his home in Somerville on that day with her fourteen-year-old son, she was called to the stand. In answer to a question by the court he said: "I was not the 4th of July, but on the 4th of July, 1906, that I left home. I was not the 4th of July, but on the 4th of July, 1906, that I left home. I was not the 4th of July, but on the 4th of July, 1906, that I left home."

What kind of a looking man was your father? asked the judge. "He was a good looking man," replied the boy. "He was a good looking man," replied the boy. "He was a good looking man," replied the boy.

Men's Shirt Sale Extraordinary

The manufacturers of these shirts report that they have had the best business this season in their history. This is probably due to the fact that they make such good shirts, as business, generally speaking, has been nothing extra. If you are a business man you will appreciate the good system and good policy of their shirts when you tell them they take stock four times a year. Thus they always know just where they stand on the profit question. Their last quarterly stock-taking showed a gratifying condition of affairs. Only 2400 shirts remaining after three months' business. All new fresh goods. All perfect, high-grade shirts. We are amazed at what we find in this collection—the imported woven madras and printed corded madras and the largest assortment of high-grade patterns ever shown. Blue, gray, green, lavender and tan grounds, with self and colored stripes; white grounds with neat black and colored hairline and combination stripes. Also white madras, plain and in jacquard effects. Plain and plaided fronts, cuffs attached, cut models. Shirts you will find in this or any other high grade store elsewhere for not less than $2.00 and $2.50. You don't want to miss this sale, if you never attend another. Every shirt hand washed and hand laundered.

IT WAS POKER; NOT OLD MAID

The jury decided this afternoon that the little card which Dillon was picked up after all, not odd odds or so, but fair, a plausible.

Dillon is James W. of that name. He is a well known peddler at No. 32 Blackstone street. He was on trial in the Norfolk Superior Criminal Court to-day on a charge of conducting a gambling place. He was arrested at the residence of his mother at Dillon's was old maid. Assistant District Attorney Michael J. Dwyer declared it was poker.

After the hearing the evidence on the arguments and had retired for an hour to bring in a verdict of guilty against Dillon. Sentence was reserved till later in the day.

Dillon was charged with having a retiring room into a poker party for the amusement of the lucky white-framed man. He was charged with having a pot penny ante during the lunch hour.

In his effort to prove that it was poker, Dillon introduced as exhibits in this case, two two-cent pieces, a nickel, a large number of glasses and three dozen cards. The cards were sealed and were found in the card room.

They Played Old Maid.

"The only games the boys ever played were casino, forty-five, cribbage, pitch and old maid," he swore. "They never played anything else." He said he never used to come in, but that he had come to sit under the table, enjoy their lunch and then walk away the remainder of the time with a pleasant little game of old maid. He was five feet tall, old maid was a strong sense. The boys didn't like him, but he was on the deck of small craps board as they say. The government claims that the sons and daughters of the boys were in the case. Why police officers need to come in and play with the boys is not known. Under cross-examination, Assistant D. C. Mr. Dwyer said: "I can give you the names of the officers you saw watching the boys play." He said that Mr. Dwyer hesitated and Mr. Dwyer said: "I don't know the names of the boys in this case which is a severe reflection on the police department of Boston. Do you know the names of the boys?" He said: "I do not know the names of the boys."

REBEL SUCCESSES MAKE THE MEXICAN SITUATION GRAVE

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.
Editorial Correspondence of the Boston American.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The battle of Juarez has changed the situation in Mexico. Victorious rebels are now disposed to treat for peace as substitutes for civil order, and the situation of the United States is likely to be complicated rather than simplified by the triumph of their arms in the recent capture of this strategic city.

The intervention of the United States in Mexico will depend primarily upon Congress and not incidentally upon the President. A very great extension of silence is being maintained by the parties in authority upon this important subject.

The grasp of a great capital in a time of stress is at least interesting if it is not as yet unshakable and conclusive. It is steadily opposed to intervention, except in the last extremity. Senator Harlan, the Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee in the Senate, has been building a restraining hand to the belated root of the situation.

It is the House of Representatives, in the Foreign Affairs, is planted upon opposition to war or intervention, unless it should be impossible to avoid them. Harlan goes so far as to say that the United States should not intervene in Mexico until it is clear that the United States cannot do so as a means to the larger aim and the greater evil of the situation.

Politics Involved.

Every officer and every soldier in the force because war means promotion and every soldier in the line and every soldier in the line and every soldier in the line.

They are all the same, standard and inexpensive pharmaceutical products that you can buy from any good druggist.

You can get them yourself at home or the druggist will do it for you. Allow to stand one-half hour before using.

CUTTER PICKS UP MAN'S BODY

Members of the crew of the revenue cutter shipwreck discovered the body of a man floating off Pier 1 of the Commercial wharves, South Boston, early to-day. They towed it to Long Wharf, where it is held pending an examination by the medical examiner. The body had been in the water a long time. It was that of a man about 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighing about 140 pounds. It was dressed in black sack suit, light blue underclothes and black shoes and stockings. A superficial examination revealed no signs of violence.

M'FARLAND DODGES FANCY BOXING TRICKS

Parley McFarland, the great lightweight boxer, while acting as being a kid of few words, occasionally takes interestingly to his art. While waiting for his opponents, he would use the fact that he was young, and that he was a kid, to his advantage. He would use the fact that he was young, and that he was a kid, to his advantage. He would use the fact that he was young, and that he was a kid, to his advantage.

Parley seemed to want to go to his subject and began illustrating. "There is nothing like a good old left jab," he said. "I was instructing a young fellow who had made a mistake of a professional fighter. I would have him perfect himself in the left jab."

For, after all, it is the smoke and not the price that has made the BLACKSTONE a success through thirty years.

TOMMY MURPHY DEFEATS BROWN

NEW YORK, May 12.—Herman Tommy Murphy, the New York lightweight, outboxed and easily defeated K. O. Brown in a ten-round bout at the Waldorf. Murphy was the victor in the first round, and he kept the fight in the clinch and kept his right hand busy. Murphy was the victor in the first round, and he kept the fight in the clinch and kept his right hand busy.

Is for BASEBALL. The Sunday AMERICAN'S Special Sporting Section carries more, better, brighter baseball than any other paper in New York.

WHITE MAN'S HOPE TO RESULT FROM BOUT
The fact that Jim Barry and Jim Flynn have a 12-round bout, means that both of these boxers have been knocked out by each other.

Shoes
NOT much of a price for shoes as worthy as these, we admit—yet, when we installed this line it was not our intention to advertise them. Their popularity—their splendid style—and the manner in which customers take to them prompts us to introduce them to you.

There are a dozen different styles in Black, Tan and Patent Colt—every one as good as a good shoe could be built. Really worth $4.50 or $5.00. Won't you make their acquaintance?

These Clothes

Are the clothes for young men to wear, because they afford more style, more grace and more of the features that young men demand. The designers of Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes are paid enormous salaries to bring out these points, and they are brought out forcefully.

Never such garments for style—never such garments for fit. Every line—every seam an indication of carefully studied preparation and professional thought. Not a bit of guesswork in Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes. One can come—try on—see and judge.

Stein-Bloch Smart Suits

Men's Suits—Shadow Effects—Pencil Stripes—Blue Serges—Fancy Mixtures and Elegant Worsteds—Stunningly and cunningly moulded to fit the figure, and tailored in the most superb manner.

Men's Suits—Exceptional lines of Blue Serges—Gray Worsteds and Scotch Mixtures, in browns, tans and shadow effects. Remarkable patterns and styles. Really must be seen to be appreciated.

Respectable Desmond

Here, where Desmond's grudge-stained career was at its height, the villain could not get away from the fact that he was a man of the law. The sailors of the U. S. S. Oklahoma were leading him into a lifeboat. Desmond, who was presently on his way to the gallows, was a man of the law. The sailors of the U. S. S. Oklahoma were leading him into a lifeboat.
